Welcome– Mrs Osman & Mr Luck

Welcome back to the fifth edition of our school Newsletter.

The focus for this fortnight is ENGAGEMENT.

As a school we really want to ensure that each and every single one of you are engaging with your teachers. When we don't hear from you, we not only worry that you could be falling behind through lack of completing work, but we also worry about your wellbeing.

This is particularly true at the moment, when I am sure all of us have been both shocked and upset by the murder of George Floyd in the United States. At a challenging time, when we are not physically together as a school community, it is more important than ever to remain united and continue to reinforce and uphold our values of commitment, pride and success towards one another. To do this please join us in this newsletter's challenge by creating a poster for anti-racism or visit <http://archive.teachfind.com/ttv/www.teachers.tv/videos/show-racism-the-red-card.html> to hear Premier League footballers talk about their experiences of racism and outline what racism is and what effects it can have.

We will continue to set you work for the rest of this term and over the summer holidays and expect it all to be completed so you remain on track for Year 13. If anyone is struggling due to not having a device at home to work from, get in touch! We can help! Thank you to those of you who are engaging brilliantly with your teachers—we are sending you a small gift heading your way this week!

Stay safe– Mrs Osman & Mr Luck

This week's Challenge is all about promoting Anti-racism and anti-discrimination around our school by making a poster and/or writing a poem or short story that celebrates diversity. Send them to me on: luckj@cleevepark-tkat.org

This is just a reminder that should be thinking about getting your university applications under way in preparation for September. Read below for the steps on how to start:

Step 1:- You need to sign up and register on the UCAS website - contact myself, Mrs Osman or Mrs Adamthwaite if you have any issues of queries with how you do this

Step 2:- Personal statement -- I have put guidelines for the whole of Year 12 on RULER - including a video link about how to write your personal statement -- It should consist of the following:

Paragraph 1 - Tell them why you want to study the course (for this you need to have researched the courses you are looking at.

Paragraph 2 - This is where you talk about your achievements in school and outside of school, anything you have done outside -- skills you have learnt from work etc

Paragraph 3:- This should be about you and your hobbies

Step 3:- Email the first draft of your personal statement to your form tutor. You will then get a personal statement back with improvements Any issues email: luckj@cleevepark-tkat.org

♥ Why 'All You Need is Love'. ♥

Learning to appreciate yourself is an important tool in helping to boost your self-esteem. Low self-esteem can seriously impact an individual's mental health, which is why focusing on self-care and taking positive steps towards self-love can improve your wellbeing.

How positive change could improve your mental health

Three young people share their stories of how being brave enough to change an aspect of their life, or try something new, positively impacted their mental health. Check out their stories for inspiration and why not give it a go yourself and tell us your story <https://www.themix.org.uk/mental-health/how-positive-change-could-improve-your-mental-health-30207.html>

Talking about self-harm

We are in uncertain times. But no matter what's going on outside, your mental health shouldn't take a back seat. The impact of lockdown and the anxiety it causes may well make self-harm harder to control. If you are self-harming, talking to someone is a crucial step towards recovery.

Here's how to talk to someone about self-harming
